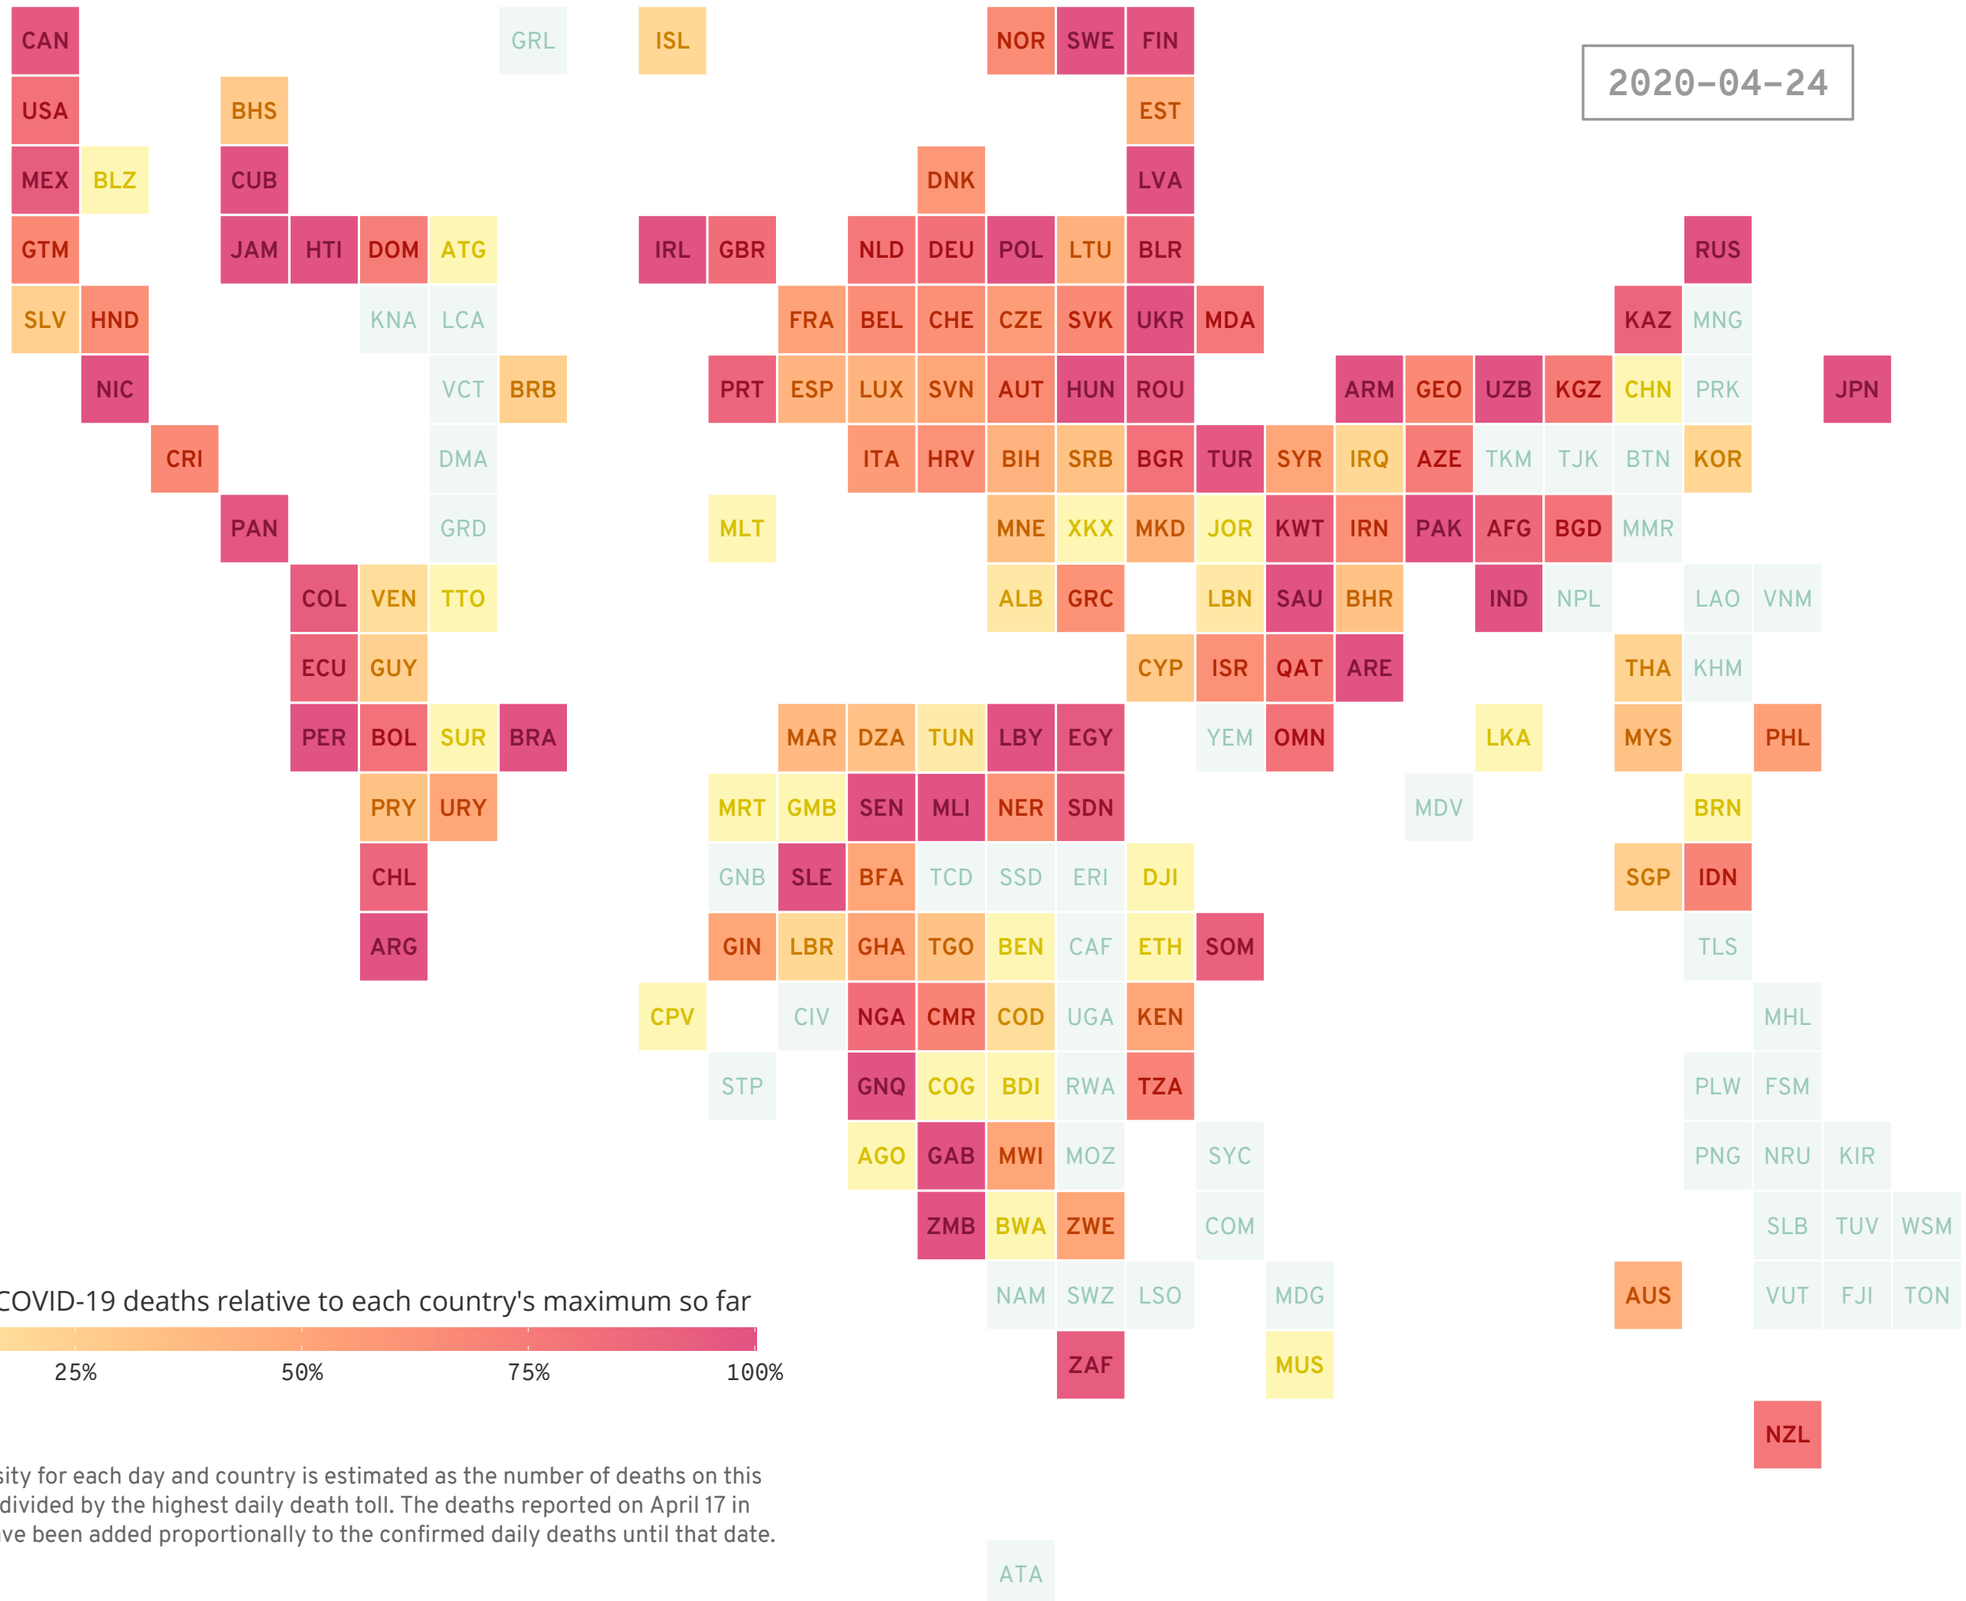
The Worst Days: Peaks in Confirmed Daily Deaths Due to COVID-19 So Far



The color intensity for each day and country is estimated as the number of deaths on this particular day divided by the highest daily death toll. The deaths reported on April 17 in Wuhan, China, have been added proportionally to the confirmed daily deaths until that date.

Visualization: Cédric Scherer • Data: Johns Hopkins University Center for Systems Science and Engineering (CSSE) via datahub.io